De Vere Beaumont Estate history

COMBINING THREE DISTINCTIVE BUILDINGS; THE WHITE HOUSE, THE CONFERENCE VILLAGE AND THE OLD SCHOOL, DE VERE BEAUMONT ESTATE HAS A RICH AND VARIED HISTORY WHICH CAN STILL BE SEEN THROUGHOUT THE PROPERTY'S ARCHITECTURAL FEATURES TODAY.

Dating back to the 14th Century, the estate was originally known as 'Remenham', named after landowner Hugo de Remenham.

The estate passed through various owners until 1751 when the land was bought by the Duke of Roxburghe for his eldest son, the Marquis of Beaumont. And it is at this time that the estate was renamed Beaumont Lodge.

In 1786, Warren Hastings, the first Governor-General of India and the estate's most celebrated tenant acquired Beaumont Lodge for £12,000 and lived here for three years.

The estate is possibly best known for its many years as a Roman Catholic boarding college for boys, from 1861 until 1967. Visit today and you can see the spaces where the pupils, teachers and staff spent their days, including the school laundry, dining room and workshop, now transformed into conference suites. And of course, the Chapel, built in 1870 by celebrated architect Joseph Hansom.

In 1961, the college's centenary was marked by a visit from Queen Elizabeth II who planted a tree in the grounds. However, the school closed shortly after in 1967, due to a lack of funding, and by the early 1970s the building was being used as a training centre.

A £20million refurbishment by De Vere concluded in 2021 creating the estate you see today.
